PETROLEUM FUNDAMENTALS SEMINAR
APRIL 24 - 25, 2014 | HOUSTON, TEXAS

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Jones Walker LLP Energy Team is proud to sponsor a two-day intensive seminar on fundamentals of the petroleum industry, taking place on April 24-25, 2014 at the Embassy Suites Houston - Downtown. The goal of the seminar is to provide legal professionals with a broad understanding of the petroleum industry in order to better understand client needs and meet client objectives. This seminar will provide a comprehensive overview of all aspects of the oil and gas industry, from geology to leasing and exploration, through production and refining, and many topics in between. The program will also feature two luncheon discussions on emerging issues in the oil and gas industry. The first day's session will focus on Transferring Risk in Master Service Agreements. Day two will feature discussions on Offshore Regulatory Issues, The Jones Act & Coastwise Trade, and Outer Continental Shelf Manning Requirements.

In today's rapidly growing energy market, it is essential for attorneys to develop a deeper knowledge of the oil and gas industry in order to effectively work with clients. This goes beyond just knowing a few terms and having a vague idea about how oil and gas operations are carried out. To fully understand the industry, it is important to comprehend all phases of oil and gas operations, from finding and extracting the minerals to eventually marketing them. Energy companies benefit from counsel that understand the complexity of the issues they face in and out of the office. This two-day course will immerse you in the world of petroleum beginning with a basic introduction of the history, processes, and fundamentals necessary to comprehend the economics, changing regulations, and future of the oil and gas industry.
