

Wholesale, Retail & Services Industry

Jones Walker's attorneys counsel a diverse array of wholesalers, retailers, manufacturers, and service industry companies operating both domestically and internationally. We represent companies that are some of the largest in the world in their respective sectors, yet we also provide legal services to family-owned local businesses that typically operate in the Gulf South region. Our clients include funeral home and death care companies, sporting and recreational goods and supplies merchant wholesalers, full-service restaurants, warehouse clubs and supercenters, building material supply retailers, cafeterias, hotel franchisers, facilities support services companies, automobile dealerships, seafood and specialty food distributors, and convenience stores and gas stations.